Corporate Procurement

Dear Vendor:

Welcome to the World Bank Group's Corporate Procurement website. This website has been designed to provide useful information to prospective and registered vendors on the process followed by the Bank Group to acquire goods, services, construction, and consulting services for its internal operations.

The World Bank Group's Corporate Procurement unit is responsible for coordinating and overseeing the sourcing strategy, selection, and contract execution for over 130 Bank Group offices around the globe. Corporate Procurement serves its clients from offices located in Washington, D.C. and Chennai, India.

For information on procurement conducted by World Bank borrowers with money the Bank Group lends for specific purposes, visit Operational Procurement.

Sincerely,

Kenny K. Cheung
Chief of Procurement
Budget, Performance Review and Strategic Planning

The screenshot shows the 'Corporate Procurement' page on the World Bank website. The page has a blue header with navigation links: 'About', 'Countries', 'Data & Research', 'Learning', 'News', 'Projects & Operations', 'Publications', and 'Topics'. A search bar is present with 'Corp. Proc' selected in a dropdown menu and a 'GO' button. Below the header, a breadcrumb trail reads 'Home > Business Center > Corporate Procurement > Business Opportunities'. A left sidebar contains a menu with 'Home', 'Business Opportunities' (expanded), 'eConsultant2', 'Prospective Vendors', 'Registered Vendors', 'Site Tools', and 'Contact Us'. The main content area is titled 'Business Opportunities' and contains several paragraphs of text. The first paragraph states that the World Bank Group advertises competitive business opportunities in two categories: Administrative Procurement and Operations Consulting. The second paragraph describes the Administrative Procurement site, which contains solicitations for goods, services, and works requirements with an estimated value above US $250,000. The third paragraph describes the Operations Consulting site, which contains only competitive consulting solicitations with an estimated value above US $50,000. The fourth paragraph encourages companies, firms, and individuals to review the information provided in the website before submitting a proposal to ensure eligibility to register and become approved vendors. A 'Please Note' section follows, stating that subject to exceptions of information disclosure policies, for any contract award valued at and over US $250,000 made after July 1, 2013, the World Bank Group reserves the right to publicly disclose contract award information – specifically, the name of the vendor receiving the award, a brief description of the contract goods or services, and the contract award amount. Vendor's proposal and contractual documents will remain confidential and therefore not subject to disclosure. Information about World Bank Group Corporate Procurement contract awards is available on the 'Corporate Procurement Awards' site. A final note states that information regarding awards that may pose risks to the safety and security of Bank Group staff and information security will not be disclosed. For further information, a request for information through the 'Access to Information' site is suggested. At the bottom of the main content area, a permanent URL is provided: <http://go.worldbank.org/XDFTL7G250>. The footer contains links for 'Home', 'Contact Us', 'Search', and 'RSS', along with the copyright notice: '© 2016 The World Bank Group, All Rights Reserved. Legal'.

Business Opportunities

The World Bank Group advertises competitive business opportunities. This site provides the information in two distinct categories, Administrative Procurement and Operations Consulting.

The Administrative Procurement site contains solicitations for goods, services and works requirements with an estimated value above US $250,000.

The Operations Consulting site contains only competitive consulting solicitations with an estimated value above US $50,000.

Companies, firms and individuals are encouraged to review the information provided in the website before they submit a proposal in order to ensure that they will be eligible to register and become approved vendors.

Please Note: Subject to the exceptions of the respective information disclosure policies, for any contract award valued at and over US $250,000 made after July 1, 2013, the World Bank Group reserves the right to publicly disclose contract award information – specifically, the name of the vendor receiving the award, a brief description of the contract goods or services, and the contract award amount. Vendor's proposal and contractual documents will remain confidential and therefore not subject to disclosure. Information about World Bank Group Corporate Procurement contract awards is available on the Corporate Procurement Awards site.

Please note that information regarding awards that may pose risks to the safety and security of Bank Group staff and information security will not be disclosed.

For further information, please submit a request for information through the Access to Information site.
